Subj: European Journal -- Denmark news pieces

As discussed, my firm works with the Government of Denmark and we worked with Greg Palkot and Peter Morello on a series of stories that were shot in Denmark.

They began to air with the show that began with the Maastricht Treaty in the U.S. I believe that was early June.

I'd appreciate your sending us on VHS copies of the shows in which Denmark was featured. If there are any fees involved, please let me know so we can make arrangements for payment.

If you could Fedex these tapes to our offices, it would be greatly appreciated. Please charge the Fedex to our account which is Fedex number 1097-0351-6, Berman/Godek Communications, 160 East 56 Street, New York, NY 10022.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call me at 212-832-8858. Thank you so much for your help.

As we just discussed, I've contacted the San Francisco Chronicle, the Los Angeles Times Bureau in San Francisco, and the business television show Marketplace, KGO-TV to see if they'd be interested in conducting an interview with the Danish Finance Minister on July 1. They all expressed interest and asked me to fax them some information which I would follow up with them this Thursday/Friday.

Below is the memo copy that I planned to send to them. I'd appreciate your reviewing this and if it's okay, contacting me as soon as possible. Also, if it's something that the Minister will do, I'd appreciate your sending me some biographical material on the Minister as well. Thanks.

DRAFT of Memo to reporters

"As we discussed, the Danish Minister of Finance Henning Dyromose will be in San Francisco the morning of July 1 and I thought you might be interested in interviewing him.

As you know, the Danes, in a referendum, narrowly, opposed ratification of the European Community's Maastricht treaty on economic and political integration. As a result, it's unclear what will happen to the entire treaty. Minister Dyromose will be able to address why the Danes voted "no" and what they feel the issues are."

Grith Becker
The Royal Danish Embassy
3200 Whitehaven Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20008

Dear Grith:

As we discussed, I'm enclosing a letter from Greg Palkot, Senior Producer and Anchor of the European Journal, outlining his plans for taping stories and anchoring a program in Denmark.

Basically, his plans include sending a reporter and a two person camera crew to shoot stories the week of May 3-9, and then from May 10-12, six people including Greg would return to Denmark to do additional taping so they can anchor a half hour special on the environment from Copenhagen. Greg plans to anchor the environment special from Denmark regardless of the outcome of the pending EC decision on whether Copenhagen becomes the EC headquarters on the environment.

The European Journal is a non-profit network and has requested assistance in arranging their coverage and logistics. Specifically they would like round trip air transportation from Germany as well as accommodations in Denmark. They will need editorial assistance in setting up interviews and clearing shooting locations.

The initial stories the European Journal is interested in include:

--Environmentally safe products. This would be a story on the efforts to develop non-ozone depleting refrigerators and freezers.

--Denmark's wind technology catches on. Denmark leads Europe in wind technology and the European Journal would want to film windpower users and talk with customers and marketers of this technology.

--Export boom. This would be a story that would focus on LEGO which exports to more than 118 countries. One of the angles of the story would be a look at new applications for their product in school testing for example.

--The Great Beltway Bridge/Tunnel project. The European Journal angle is that the tunnel link between France and Britain has gotten most of the attention, but Denmark's Great Beltway Project is almost as large, just as difficult, but once completed will have a dramatic impact on trade within the EC.

--Denmark and the Maastricht Treaty. The accord still needs to be approved. The European Journal would interview officials on both sides of the issue.

We think cooperating with the European Journal will give us an unequalled opportunity to have editorial input into one of the most valuable programs Denmark could ever be profiled on. The upscale business audience that views European Journal in the United States and Canada is a prime audience for the economic development goals of Denmark. It is also probable that some of these stories and the half-hour special on the environment will be aired more than once. Additionally, we would be able to use the footage and stories compiled by the European Journal to help create a marketing presentation tape for use in the United States. The European Journal tapes would represent a significant saving over the cost of producing similar video ourselves.

Being able to start this relationship with the European Journal we think is a major coup, and should be pursued vigorously for both short term and long term benefits to Denmark.

The planning for the European Journal's shooting schedule beginning in early May needs to begin as soon as possible. Anything that can be done to expedite their requests for assistance will allow them the time and resources to do more stories.

Please let me know if there is anything else you need from us or the European Journal.

Regards,

Bob Davis

Dear Greg:

Chris and I are sorry we didn't get a chance to see you on your last visit, but it was great talking to you. Ron Tindiglia and I spoke about you when he and I had dinner last week, and we both agreed that we're proud of the work you're doing on European Journal.

As I mentioned when we spoke, the government of Denmark is a client of Berman/Godek, and we work closely with their top level government people in Washington trying to help generate American investment in Denmark.

There are lots of ideas we have that we think would be appropriate stories for your show. We can also help expedite any ideas you may have for stories in Denmark. Without meaning to sound like a greedy pr person, or even worse, to sound like your executive producer, you might want to think about doing a series of stories that can be shot efficiently in Denmark.

I'm enclosing some recent press releases that we've used in the U.S. as well as some official literature that we also write for Denmark. We think that the proximity of Denmark to you, and the proximity of Denmark to the three major markets of Europe, namely the European Community, Scandanavia, and Eastern Europe, makes Denmark a real story and a potential for a solid journalistic effort.

A few stories that come to mind immediately are:

Danish companies are among the world's leaders in getting rid of ozone-depleting substances such as freon and halon. I've enclosed a recent article in The New York Times that you probably saw. The Danish angle is on page 3 of the Feb. 1992 Doing Business in Denmark.
